The first real 3D printing prepress

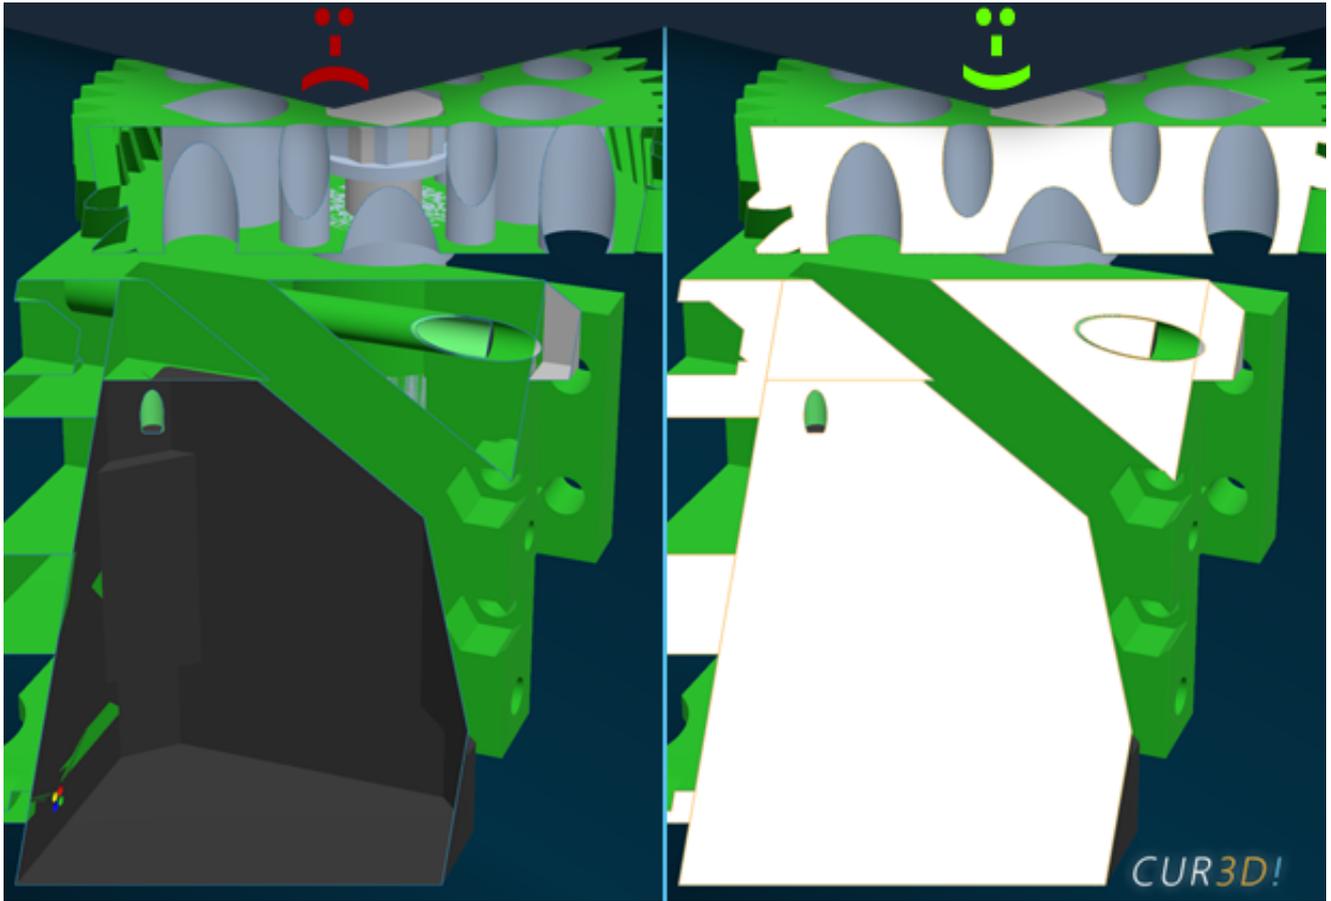

Most CAD data are not printable out of the box. Usually several hours of preparation of the drawings are necessary: thin walls and overlapping surfaces must be corrected, as well as wrong normals. The filling of cavities and holes takes much time, too. And if the scaling factor also deviates from the original data, frustration is pre-programmed. RUHRSOURCE CUR3D (spoken: cured) reduces the amount of work from many hours to a few minutes. The Gutenberg-revolution for additive manufacturing: No matter what type of vision models you want to print, CUR3D will revolutionize your work with 3D printers and, above all, speed up the process. Now you can concentrate on the essentials and CUR3D does the rest.

My Review For This Game:

Pros:

- I enjoyed the pixel style graphics.
- The idea behind the game was good.
- I was interested in the story.

Cons:

- There is no menu to change sound options or keybindings or anything.
- The "record store" is WAY too loud.
- If I pressed ESC, I couldn't find a way to keep playing and had to start over from the beginning.
- Used a Swing and when I tried to leave it, it pulled me back into it and started rapidly moving everywhere and when the game faded to black and spawned me on the next day, I spawned like 100ft in the air and had no way of interacting with the game.

Overall, I was excited to play a new pixel style game with a story that interested me but due to the glitches in the gameplay, I wasn't able to progress in the story at all.

TL;DR - Good premise but too glitchy.. Boring RPG maker game with attempts at self-aware humor that misses more often than it hits.. I do not recommend the loco in it's current state, but read on for more information.

DTG have taken an IHH model and have done... something... to it. I imagine a quick texture upgrade to make it compatible with the latest version of TS, but other than that it's a mystery to me. I wish DTG would've done better justice to the last steam loco built by BR.

PROS:

- Good looking, supposedly modernised model, something DTG is getting good at.
- Inclusion of a single and double-chimney version, with BR1A and BR1D tenders. 16T mineral wagons and a brake van are also included.
- Fun scenarios. I actually enjoyed a little challenge in them.

CONS:

- Bad sounds. As usual, DTG fall short of making a two-cylinder, double chimney behemoth sound daunting. At high speeds it sounds like a diesel engine running out of fuel, oil, and coolant, all at the same time. Exactly like the European Asset Black 5... Oh wait....
- In-cab features need work. The ejector knobs have been modelled, but not animated and used. They just sit there in front of your face in the cab with no purpose other than to look interesting and unimportant.
- I can't change the headcode from Fast Freight, which isn't all bad I suppose, considering that's what the 9F was built for. But when I'm pulling a railtour with Evening Star, I want an Express headcode up front.
- Reliance on 3rds parties to fix otherwise correctable issues. there, I said it.

SSS have a great sound pack that adds separate sounds to both the single and double-chimney versions, along with some cool smoke particle effects and a new "dynamic" trillable whistle to replace the standard, repeating, shrieking mess. Steam chest simulation and accurate brakes, among other things are also included. If you're gonna get this mammoth, don't bother unless you intend to get the SSS pack alongside it.

This is DTG's way to make a quick pound (or dollar, in my case) with a second-hand model, with no real attention paid to the contents they spewed forth. Rescued from perdition by SSS, it's a great model for the extra money of a 3rd party enhancement.

Overall 65%, with SSS pack 80%

. Okay Nay Sayers...

As others have said, this is a port of a mobile game.

That said, it is not bad for what it is.

If you can find it on sale, I think it would be an asset to anyones library that enjoys uncomplicated shooting, TD-type products. I

Good Ck2 Themed Rock! album. I kinda wonder what will happen If they make a full Prog Album for CK2. Talented People.. I also needed to re-enter the install key ... but one email to Aerofly support and a new key was generated, and off I went. Don't let something as trivial as this change your mind about a rock solid PC flight simulation experience.. The only thing I am not able to understand in this game is why she has no weapons and why can't she use her hands, other than that the game is really fun to play, especially when you enlarge those melons they look awesome & It encourages you to fight more and more.

The story is descent one, a girl out to prove her innocence and wants to clean her hands off a murder. Fights her way to victory in one battle or the other with MAGEDOLLS which are created by some witch who herself lost control over them. Lack of weapons and lack of hand to hand combat for the main character is a drawback, even a pet would have been a great help, all you have to do is collect gold coins and buy lingenere or dress or accessories with every item costing you 500 gold. Gold is hard to collect, and it becomes tougher as you move up the levels. Also I found that makeup items are missing, and no voice customizations either, even the speech between two characters in the main story are shadowed by music. Also the clothes are fragile and tend to break after more than two hits. But the game is a superhit, i strongly recommend this game. It is awesome to play with xbox controller.. Great game! Local multiplayer games in VR are great and we need more of it! Also great throwback to late 90s/early 2000s 3D platformers, which I love!

Unlike some other people, I think that the game is perfectly balanced. The only issue is that whereas the boss is easy to pick up for everyone, for playing the hero some experience in console gaming is of advantage due to the fact that there are more actions than just moving around, jumping and attacking. But this isn't the games fault. I myself love playing both characters!

I don't regret buying the game but contentwise the game doesn't have much to offer. There's one level, one hero and one boss so it might get old quickly, especially if you're playing with the same friend over and over again. I really hope that the devs will expand the game because apart from that, I love it!. By FAR one of the best choose your own adventure games out there. The magic system is incredibly interesting and innovative in its costs and effects, the characters are great, and I really appreciate the LGBT+ representation. Highly recommended!. I gave up on this game after over an hour of hour of pointless wandering. The scenery is pretty and relaxing at first, but there are slow sections that just drag on and on. While you're supposed to be going to a specific location, there's no way to tell where you are, which trail to take when it splits and if you're spending a lot of time going in the wrong direction. I'd love to have come upon any of the interesting scenes shown in the previews and samples, but all I managed to do was to travel a great distance, maybe in circles, and listen to poetry snippets every so often that didn't mean a thing to me.

If I was on the right trail, I couldn't tell. If I was lost, I couldn't tell. I saw no one, and eventually hit a section of the trail on a mountain that I could not follow. It was too steep. With nothing to show for more than an hour, I just don't care to walk the paths any more. If I had run across any of the shown scenes about the game once in a while, it might have been worth the time. But I've completely lost interest after a lot of nothing has happened.. Well... I'm not sure if I should be disappointed or not about this. First, while the information presented in the "game" is decent enough, it is lacking several important things, namely most of Jupiter's moons, as well as all of Saturn's, Uranus's, and Neptunes. The Asteroid Belt is also not mentioned, and some of the graphics are jarring.

Being rather cheap, one would not expect much, I guess. As for the Trading Cards, they have yet to be implimented. Which is also a bit disappointing, since one would expect eight to eleven at least (each of the planets, the Sun, the Moon, and maybe Europa or other Satellites of Jupiter).. Do you like puzzles? Do you like puzzles that make you think? Do you like puzzles that make you scratch your head?

Well Terraform seems to do all the above and more. It has a great learning curve slowing throwing in new elements with each new puzzle and then a puzzle or 2 to reinforce what you have learned so far. It is definately making me think more as it goes. You can start a puzzle and stare at it for a bit to get a logical procession in your head and then find it only half works. Puzzles are supposed to be just that - A PUZZLE. Good job of doing that.

For the low price it will give you plenty to think about.

Its a simple to learn yet complex game worth taking a look at.
